SWEEP TO SENSATIONAL WIN IN 37TH BATTLE OF RIVALS

With a stiff November wind whistling across Williamson Field, at Lancaster, whipping the breasts of 15,000 enthusiastic football fans, the Bream-coached tribe of Orange and Blue Bullets, inspired and fired to a high pitch of fighting strength by their desire to capture their third consecutive championship, unmercifully laced the highly-touted Franklin and Marshall Possums 25 to 0. It was one of the finest exhibitions of high class football displayed by a Bullet band for a number of years and marked a fitting climax to the cessation of gridiron activities for the 1929 season.

Rated the underdogs and booked for a toboggan spill of no mean proportions; deprived of the services of their captain, Eddie Gulian, and their backfield ace, "Streak" McMillan, who is in the Annie M. Warner hospital with a leg infection, the Men of Bream galloped into the fray, determined to overcome the margin of advantage against them.

Upon their shoulders are heaped the glory and laurels of vanquishing a foe that to all critics was destined to snare the Turkey Day encounter by a safe margin.

Gettysburg outplayed, outsmarted and outguessed their rivals. They beat them to the punch and kept 'em on the run. Franklin and Marshall never had a chance. The closest they approached the Bullet goal was the 32 yard line. Once they held the battering Bullets for downs on the 22 yard line, but Cramer booted the pigskin out of danger.

Break F. and M. Line

The ferocious charging of the forward wall of the Gettysburgians slashed huge holes in the Possum line through which Anglemoyer, McCloy, Snyder and Koontz dashed for consistent gains. The gaps in the front line of the Possums made by the snarling, fighting Bullets were big enough, at times, for a team of horses to ply.

From the opening whistle the Bullets turned back the confident Lancastrians. They whittled them down in moving machine fashion, crushed their line and repulsed offensive attacks at will. They beat down their hosts in characteristic ashion and tumbled Miller's rages from their exalted position in a humiliating manner.

The largest crowd to witness a Gettysburg-F. and M. battle jammed Williamson field. Lusty lungs urged the Possums to stem the tide of the onrushing Bullets while from the other side of the field a throng of frantic Bullet fans shouted, cheered and sang their praises of the husky warriors of G-burg. To pick an outstanding star out of the Bullets would be impossible. Every man on the squad played in top form. They worked with clock-like precision throughout the contest. When the forward wall charged and sliced out an opponent, a ball-carrying Gettysburgian was ready to leap through the opening for consistent yardage.

Gettysburg performed better in Thursday's contest than they did in any other game this season. The spirit with which they entered the contest bespoke a "team that won't be beat." They lived up to the highest expectations of their mentors and answered the call to arms in typical G-burg spirit.

Insurmountable Defense
Santiniello, Murgard and Leese, playing their first collegiate championship contest, came through with colors flying. They formed an insurmountable obstacle over which Franklin and Marshall failed to drive. Tussey and Herzlich, Cramer and Ulrich comprised the battering rams of the Bullet wall working in military harmony with their three mates that baffled the attempts of their hosts.

McCloy's return of punts, Cramer's punting and the bone-crushing onslaughts of Anglemoyer, Snyder and Koontz proved too much for the Miller-coached out-

Snyder crossed the line first in the early part of the first quarter after a sustained drive from the 0-yard line. It was a case of four ast, hard-hitting, line-crushing jacks, battering their way through for large gains that spelled defeat for the Lancastrians in the first quarter. During the next two quarters the Bullets were held scoreless.

F. and M. Takes Air

In the closing minutes of the third quarter, the powerful backs of Bream, lashed with the fury of champions, advanced the ball to a one-yard line. McCloy breached the last chalk mark in the first quarter. Anglemoyer's first of two attempts at the extra point failed.

TWO MARKERS IN LAST PERIOD

After being held to a scoreless tie for three quarters of the game, Gettysburg high school's powerful grid machine rose in its might in the final period to shove over a pair of touchdowns and defeat Lebanon high 12-0, in the Turkey Day classic at Lebanon.

A crowd of 3,000 fans witnessed the ancient rivals in one of their bitterest struggles. Coach Martin's team held the upper hand during the entire game and only penalties prevented the score from mounting. Seven wins and two losses is the fine record for the Maroons this year.

Early in the fourth period a long pass, Kitzmiller to Rummel over the goal line, gave the battlefield boys their first score. Rummel made a fine leaping catch of the pass. Later in the same period Smith crashed over the line after a steady march had been made.

The big Maroon line gave one of its roughest displays. Led by Dave Reaser, the entire line from end to end constantly broke through the Lebanon team to throw the ball carriers for big losses. Only three first downs were made by the Red and Blue and these came on end runs.

Penalties Costly
"Baldy" Weikert and Dick Smith gave good performances in the backfield, the former reeling off the longest run of the day in the third quarter, running 40 yards after receiving a punt. Kitzmiller hurled passes with his same deadly accuracy, while Fissel failed to get (Continued on Page Two)

All Traps Must Have Tags On

Leo Bushman, Adams county game warden, today called attention to the fact that all traps, set for game, must bear tags giving the name and address of the owner, whether or not the traps are on the trapper's own land. Mr. Bushman said the fine for not having traps properly tagged is $10. Several prosecutions have already been made this fall by Mr. Bushman.

The muskrat trapping season opens December 1. The trapping season for other animals has been open for several weeks.

DEER HUNTING SEASON OPENS MONDAY, DEC. 2

Most Successful Big Game Season In
Years Predicted
By Hunters.

THREE DEPUTIES ASSIGNED HERE

With indications that deer will be exceptionally abundant, several thousand Gettysburg and Adams county sportsmen are looking forward with keen anticipation to the most successful big game season in recent years when the fifteen-day period for killing deer opens next Monday, December 2.

Leo Bushman, Adams county game warden, said deer are more abundant this fall than any time in recent years, despite the doe season in 1928, which, opponents said, would reduce the male species for several years. Mr. Bushman said he has never seen as many fawns in the mountains as there are this year.

Already some of the more than fifty hunting lodges on the slopes of the South Mountains are being made ready for the hunters who will spend the season or part of it in camp. One new hunting lodge has been opened by a camp known as "The Antlers," among whose members are sportsmen who formerly belonged to the old Marsh Creek hunting camp.

3 Deputies Here
Game Warden Bushman said he will have three deputies in the mountains during the season to prevent the killing of illegal bucks and doe. He said some night hunting has been in progress but he has been unable to catch the perpetrators.

Mr. Bushman said he hoped the camps would take bags of corn with them this year to help feed squirrels and other small game.

Besides deer, the season for bear and elk opens next Monday when the small game season closes. Already 4112 hunting licenses have been issued to Adams county hunters, and indications are that the South Mountains will swarm with sportsmen on the opening day. Adams county is a favorite hunting ground for sportsmen from adjacent counties, and these will help swell the throng which will make life miserable for the deer.

The state game commission believes that 18,000 to 25,000 buck deer should be killed during the season. The season extends from December 1 to 15, but there are three Sunday days in this period, reducing the actual hunting days to twelve.

Arrested In Hanover.

USED, DR. HUBER'S NAME ON CHECK

Edward Larrigan, 18, alias DeSetto and Roath, said to have been a former student at Gettysburg academy, arrested in Hanover, Wednesday evening, was expected to be turned over to state police here today to answer charges of forgery.

Larrigan, whose home is in Brooklyn, New York, was arrested in Hanover on charges of passing worthless checks.

The charges against the former student were brought last May, after he is alleged to have given Ivan G. Naugle, proprietor of The Quality Shop, Baltimore street, a forged check for $18 and C. Ross Shuman, Baltimore street, a similar check for $25.

A similar and more recent charge is pending, it was learned from the state police. Larrigan is alleged to have forged the name of Dr. Charles H. Huber, headmaster at the academy, to a check for $10 which he gave Rufus Weaver, proprietor of the Drive-it-yourself service, for a rented automobile the night of November 19.

Abandoned Rented Car
Larrigan abandoned the rented car near Gettysburg after the machine ran out of gasoline. The speedometer showed the car had driven 141 miles during the night.

Larrigan went by the name of "Edward Roath" while at the academy. He is said to have been dropped at the local institution for an infraction of the regulations. His father is said to be wealthy.

Warrants charging Larrigan with forgery were sworn out in the office of Justice of the Peace John C. Shealer by Mr. Naugle and Mr. Shuman.

With the bullet of a small calibre rifle lodged in her brain, back of the right eye, Mrs. Frederick Stalb, 51, of near Stone Jug, was in a serious condition at the Warner hospital today.

The woman was accidentally wounded at 1 o'clock, Thursday afternoon, by her 12-year-old son, William, while he was handling a rifle in the kitchen of their home.

The bullet struck the woman in the left cheek, taking an upward course through the base of the brain and lodging in what medical profession terms a "silent area" behind the right eye.

Hospital authorities believe the woman will lose the sight of her right eye. The eye closed, swelled and became discolored soon after the shooting, and no attempt has been made to determine if she can see with that eye.

BYRD ENROUTE TO SOUTH POLE IN HUGE CRAFT

Air Trip To Pole.

1,600-MILE TRIP TO TAKE 24 HOURS

New York, Nov. 29 (AP).—The New York Times, the St. Louis Post-Dispatch and the newspapers affiliated with them in publishing reports from Commander Richard E. Byrd, Antarctic expedition, today announced that Commander Byrd started from his base, Little America, in the Antarctic at 3:29 o'clock yesterday afternoon on a 1,600-mile flight to the South Pole and back.

Commander Byrd who is flying with Bert Balchen as pilot, with Harold June as radio operator and Captain McKinley as photographer, in the big tri-motored airplane he took to the Antarctic, expect to be in direct communication throughout the flight with the New York Times radio station in New York as well as with his base and will report his progress as he goes. If all is well with him, he should return to his base before 25 hours have elapsed.

Planning to carry the Stars and Stripes to the bottom of the world by air as he already has carried them to the top, Commander Byrd set out on Thanksgiving Day to fly across the South Pole just as summer approached the vast frigid Antarctic continent.

The flight recalled his own flight in May 1926 in a tri-motored airplane from King's Bay, Spitzbergen, across the North Pole and return in 15 and one-half hours. The round trip was 1600 miles. A trip in the Arctic springtime about the same distance as the flight on which he is engaged today over icy wastes and mountains.

Byrd was the first to fly to the North Pole and the only one to fly across it in a heavier than air machine.

Some comfort however was seen in the forecast that there would be a return to somewhat higher temperatures Saturday afternoon.

DEER HUNTING SEASON OPENS MONDAY, DEC. 2

Most Successful Big Game Season In Years Predicted By Hunters.

THREE DEPUTIES ASSIGNED HERE

With indications that deer will be exceptionally abundant, several thousand Gettysburg and Adams county sportsmen are looking forward with keen anticipation to the most successful big game season in recent years when the fifteen-day period for killing deer opens next Monday, December 2.

Leo Bushman, Adams county game warden, said deer are more abundant this fall than any time in recent years, despite the doe season in 1928, which, opponents said, would reduce the male species for several years. Mr. Bushman said he has never seen as many fawns in the mountains as there are this year.

Already some of the more than fifty hunting lodges on the slopes of the South Mountains are being made ready for the hunters who will spend the season or part of it in camp. One new hunting lodge has been opened by a carap known as "The Antlers," among whose members are sportsmen who formerly belonged to the old Marsh Creek hunting camp.

3 Deputies Here Game Warden Bushman said he will have three deputies in the mountains during the season to prevent the killing of illegal bucks and doe. He said some night hunting has been in progress but he has been unable to catch the perpetrators.

Mr. Bushman said he hoped the camps would take bags of corn with them this year to help feed squirrels and other small game.

Besides deer, the season for bear and elk opens next Monday when the small game season closes.

Already 4112 hunting licenses have been issued to Adams county hunters, and indications are that the South Mountains will swarm with sportsmen on the opening day. Adams county is a favorite hunting ground for sportsmen from adjacent counties, and these will help swell the throng which will make life miserable for the deer.

The state game commission believes that 18,000 to 25,000 buck deer should be killed during the season. The season extends from December 1 to 15, but there are three Sunday days in this period, reducing the actual hunting days to twelve.

HOLD YOUTH FOR PASSING BOGUS CHECKS

Former Prep Student, With Several Aliases, Arrested In Hanover.

USED. DR. HUBER'S NAME ON CHECK

Edward Larrigan, 18, alias DeSetto and Roath, said to have been a former student at Gettysburg academy, arrested in Hanover, Wednesday evening, was expected to be turned over to state police here today to answer charges of forgery.

Larrigan, whose home is in Brooklyn, New York, was arrested in Hanover on charges of passing worthless checks.

The charges against the former student were brought last May, after he is alleged to have given Ivan G. Naugle, proprietor of The Quality Shop, Baltimore street, a forged check for $18 and C. Ross Shuman, Baltimore street, a similar check for $25.

A similar and more recent charge is pending. It was learned from the state police. Larrigan is alleged to have forged the name of Dr. Charles H. Huber, headmaster at the academy, to a check for $10 which he gave Rufus Weaver, proprietor of the Drive-it-yourself service, for a rented automobile the night of November 19.

Abandoned Rented Car Larrigan abandoned the rented car near Gettysburg after the machine ran out of gasoline. The speedometer showed the car had driven 141 miles during the night.

Larrigan went by the name of "Edward Roath" while at the academy. He is said to have been dropped at the local institution for an infraction of the regulations. His father is said to be wealthy.

Warrants charging Larrigan with forgery were sworn out in the office of Justice of the Peace John C. Shealer by Mr. Naugle and Mr. Shuman.

Mrs. Frederick Stalb Is Accidentally Shot By Her 12-year Old Son

Bullet Lodges In Her Brain Back Of Right Eye; Is In Serious Condition; Youth Was Handling Rifle In Kitchen Of Home, Thursday Afternoon.

X-RAY PICTURES SHOW POSITION OF SHOT; TO AWAIT DEVELOPMENTS

With the bullet of a small calibre rifle lodged in her brain, back of the right eye, Mrs. Frederick Stalb, 51, of near Stone Jug, was in a serious condition at the Warner hospital today.

The woman was accidentally wounded at 1 o'clock, Thursday afternoon, by her 12-year-old son, William, while he was handling a rifle in the kitchen of their home.

The bullet struck the woman in the left cheek, taking an upward course through the base of the brain and lodging in what medical profession terms a "silent area" behind the right eye.

Hospital authorities believe the woman will lose the sight of her right eye. The eye closed, swelled and became discolored soon after the shooting, and no attempt has been made to determine if she can see with that eye.

BYRD ENROUTE TO SOUTH POLE IN HUGE CRAFT

Noted Explorer Starts Thanksgiving For Air Trip To Pole.

1,600-MILE TRIP TO TAKE 24 HOURS

New York, Nov. 29 (AP).—The New York Times, the St. Louis Post-Dispatch and the newspapers affiliated with them in publishing reports from Commander Richard E. Byrd, Antarctic expedition, today announced that Commander Byrd started from his base, Little America, in the Antarctic at 3:29 o'clock yesterday afternoon on a 1,600-mile flight to the South Pole and back.

Commander Byrd who is flying with Bernt Balchen as pilot, with Harold June as radio operator and Captain McKinley as photographer, in the big tri-motored airplane he took to the Antarctic, expect to be in direct communication throughout the flight with the New York Times radio station in New York as well as with his base and will report his progress as he goes. If all is well with him, he should return to his base before 25 hours have elapsed.

Planning to carry the Stars and Stripes to the bottom of the world by air as he already has carried them to the top, Commander Byrd set out on Thanksgiving Day to fly across the South Pole just as summer approached the vast frigid Antarctic continent.

The flight recalled his own flight in May 1926 in a tri-motored airplane from King's Bay, Spitzbergen, across the North Pole and return in 15 and one-half hours. The round trip was 1600 miles. A trip in the Arctic springtime about the same distance as the flight on which he is engaged today over icy wastes and mountains.

Byrd was the first to fly to the North Pole and the only one to fly across it in a heavier than air machine.

COLD WAVE IS PREDICTED FOR THIS EVENING

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP).—After several indecisive skirmishes with autumn, winter today had begun its first general offensive with mild temperatures and soft breezes retreating so rapidly that a general rout was predicted by the weather bureau tonight.

"The coldest weather of the season," the forecast said, "will prevail quite generally tonight with freezing temperatures as far south as southern Georgia and possibly northern Florida."

Some comfort however was seen in the forecast that there would be a return to somewhat higher temperatures Saturday afternoon.

BUYS ROAD STAND

F. S. Hart, of Madison, New Jersey, has purchased the refreshment stand of George Werts, eight miles north of here along the Harrisburg road. Possession will be given April 1.

Because of the location of the of the bullet, hospital authorities have made no effort to probe for the ball, the position of which was clearly shown on X-ray pictures taken today. In such cases, hospital authorities said, it is best to let nature take its course unless the patient takes a turn for the worse.

According to hospital attendants, the woman spent a rather restless night due to the pain she suffered and was unimproved today. Mrs. Stalb is conscious and rational, and knows her condition is serious.

The woman's husband, a man past seventy, was in the room adjoining the kitchen when the shooting occurred, but he was unable to assist his wife after the accident because of his critical condition. Mr. Stalb's death is expected momentarily. For several weeks he has taken no other nourishment than water, and is very weak.

Notifies Neighbor The young boy, who was terror-stricken after he saw his mother wounded, ran to the home of H. P. Hartlaub, a neighbor, for assistance. Harry Walters, of York, who was spending Thanksgiving day at the Hartlaub home, brought the woman to the local hospital.

On the way to the hospital, the woman remained conscious and complained of no pain.

According to reports, William had been hunting Thursday. While away, he is said to have traded a shot gun for a .22 calibre rifle with Ames Bean. It was Bean's rifle that the lad was handling when it was accidentally discharged while he and his mother were alone in the kitchen.

Mrs. Stalb is the second wife of Mr. Stalb, and William is their only child.

The family had been in straitened circumstances for some time, and had been receiving assistance from the Adams county Red Cross.

The family moved to Adams county from Johnstown several years ago. After farming a small place near Stone Jug, the farm was sold, and the family had been residing on the place until spring, when they expected to move.

Miss Margaret McMillan, secretary of the Red Cross, notified Mrs. Stalb's brother in Hagerstown of the accident. She said Mr. Stalb would be brought to the Adams county home to be cared for.

year probably will be a big increase over the kill of 1927, the last year bucks could be legally shot. That year, 14,374 were killed, the commission records show. Last year it was illegal to kill bucks and only does were shot. Many hunters refused to hunt for the female deer. Only bucks with two or more points on an antler may be killed, and a hunter is limited to one deer for the season. A camp is permitted but six deer, no matter how many hunters co-operate.

The elk season also opens next Monday. Elk with four or more points on an antler are legal game. Montana and Virginia are the only other states where elk may be hunted. Elk are found chiefly in Elk, Jefferson, Cameron and Forest counties, and only six were reported as having been shot last year.

MAROONS WHIP

going, although he made several nice gains.

Lebanon kicked off and tried a side kick that a Lebanon man recovered but only eight yards from the kick off. The same play was tried and failed again. Gettysburg taking the ball on Gettysburg's 48 yard line. An exchange of punts and a 15 yard penalty put the Maroons on their 20 yard line. Lebanon made its only threat when Krouse recovered a fumble on the 22 yard line. The Martimen braced and threw the Lebanon backs for losses, taking the ball on the 30 yard line.

Early in the second quarter the Martimen drove deep into Lebanon territory and finally placed the ball on the 10 yard line but lost it on downs. A fake punt formation, and Eagan made first down on the 22 yard line. Lebanon soon kicked and again the Bullets threatened. A pair of passes, Kitzmiller to Weikert, put the ball on the 10 yard line. On the next play, Weikert broke through the line but slipped with but a yard to go. A five yard penalty was then inflicted on the Martimen and another chance to score was over.

Pass For Tally
In the third quarter Lebanon was forced to punt soon after receiving the kick off. Weikert got the punt on his 20 yard stripe and twisted his way back for a beautiful 40 yard run to Lebanon's 40 yard line. Again the locals lost the ball when a pass was grounded behind the goal line. Late in this period another march carried the ball to the 15 yard line.

On the second play of the final period, Kitzmiller whipped a 20 yard pass to Rummel behind the goal for the score. Thomas' place kick was low. A bad punt against the wind by Feaser went out on Lebanon's 30 yard line and resulted in the second score. With a straight smashing attack, the Maroons plunged their way over, Smith scoring. Kitzmiller's kick was low. Gettysburg threatened again before the final whistle blew.

Coach Martin's team outgained its rivals 13 first downs to 3. Penalties sustained by the Maroons reached 90 yards while the Red and Blue team received but 10 yards for infractions on the rules. Of nine passes attempted the Bullets completed five while Lebanon failed in all of five tries. Eagan proved to be Lebanon's best ground gainer.

resorting to the air in the fourth quarter, Acting Captain Paul Tussey—be of the blond hair—snared an F and M pass and behind perfect interference that smeared the entire Possum team, raced fifty-five yards for the Bullets' third marker. Fired with the spirit of administering a sound trouncing to their confident and highly-rated rivals, the Bullets, with several substitutions in the line-up, upset the closing minute rally of their opponents and Hoke, substitute back, leaped into the air, grabbed a beautiful pass destined for a Blue and White clad footballer and dashed 35 yards for the fourth and last score of the game. Gramer added the extra point.

Gala Day For Bullets
In the closing minutes of the pastime Hoke captured another aerial but slipped and tumbled to the sod on what looked like another dash for a touchdown.

It was a gala day for the Bullets. The fans went wild. Sport dopsters sneaked to cover as the rampaging, terror-bent tribe from the Battledown school ground their cleated boots into the turf and pounded away with all their might in a medley of line-bucks, crisscrosses, spinners, and off-tackle skirts to dim and darken the brightest hopes of F. and M. fans. Gettysburg's victory places Bream in the front ranks of young mentors. It is his third conference title in his first three years of college.

lege coaching. Another thing the battle-scarred warriors of Gettysburg did in coping the tilt was to bring "Streak" McMillan nearer a complete recovery. The "Streak" received details of the game play-by-play by special telephone direct from the press box at Williamson field, to his hospital bed here. His sister-nurse reported that her brother showed marked signs of improvement as he heard the story of his teammates' slashing victory over their ancient rivals. The stricken Bullet ace shouted back cheers over the wire as he listened to the story of the 25-to-0 sensational victory for the conference title against overwhelming odds.

Yesterday's victory gives Gettysburg 18 wins to Franklin and Marshall's sixteen. Three games ended in a tie.

MAN SUICIDES IN GIRL'S ROOM

Shoots Himself in Breast in Frederick Room; Leaves Note To Mother.

Frederick, Nov. 29 (AP).—John T. Anderson, about 25, of Baltimore, committed suicide by shooting himself in the breast with a shotgun in the room of Miss Helen Miller early Thursday.

Woman Is Waitress
Anderson came to Frederick about a week ago and was paying attention to Miss Miller, a lunchroom waitress. Her home is in Westminster. Anderson called at the lunchroom Tuesday and when Miss Miller refused to make an engagement with him he left.

Had Balanced Gun
Sheriff William C. Roderick and Magistrate Alton Y. Bennett found that Anderson had purchased a new gun and after balancing it against a radiator and chair fired the shot by pressing the trigger with a window stick.

The note was found near the body and read as follows:
Dear Mom—Please do not worry yourself over this because I am not worth it. Life will only continue being a joke if I live, so the best to do is to end it all. Goodbye, John.

Magistrate Bennett, acting as coroner, returned a verdict of suicide and deemed an inquest unnecessary.

Little Jack Rabbit

By David Cory

Down the Shady Forest Trail
Hops a bunny rabbit,
He'll be there in time for school
That's his daily habit.

Yes, sir, Little Jack Rabbit was always on time for his lessons. He never kept Professor Jim Crow waiting for him. No, indeed, I hope
every boy and girl who reads these stories will be like my bunny—always on time.

"Hello!" all of a sudden shouted a
voice.

"Who's calling me, I'd like to know?"
It sounds just like Professor Crow,

answered the little rabbit in poetry,
just like Willie Shakespeare.
"Well, that's just who it is,"
answered the wise old black bird,
meaning himself, of course, and not
that famous poet I've just mentioned. Right there on the path stood
the wise old blackbird, his Wisdom
Book tucked under his wing and a pair of spectacles astride his long
nose.

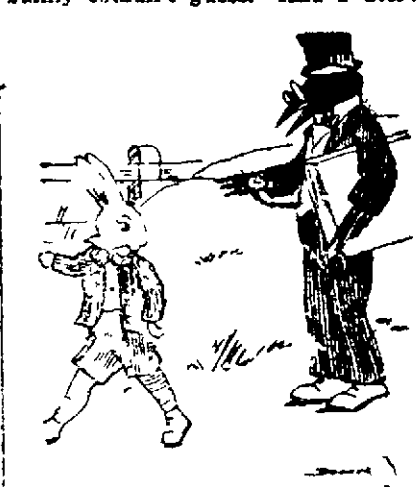

"Please don't beg of me to stop,

I must keep on hippeety hop," remarked the little rabbit, with a twinkle, wink of his pretty pink
nose.
"It's only 61 minutes after seven,"
cawed the old crow, with a chuckle,
pulling out his big gold watch
"Where's your timepiece?"
"Oh, dear!" sighed the little bunny "It stopped this morning. If Billy Breeze hadn't called me I would have been late for breakfast."
"Well, you have lots of time before school commences," chuckled the wise old crow "Listen a minute and
give me a look. I must read a line
from my Wisdom Book." Gracious me, there goes that old crow into
rhyme!
Turning to page 3, Professor Crow
slowly began to read,
"A, B, C, tell you come to Z.
Up to 100 from 1, 2, 3.
These you must know very well,
And also learn to write and spell."

"I do study hard," cried the little rabbit. "Didn't my report card show
that I had good marks?"
"It certainly did," admitted the wise old blackbird "But when
school is over for the holidays please
to remember the poem I've just recited."
"I will, I will," promised the little bunny "And maybe I'll have time
to hop home and wind my watch.
It's the watch Uncle Lucky gave me

for my birthday," and away hopped
the little rabbit, clipperly clip, lipperly lip, with never a stumble and nary a slip, until, all of a sudden, he came to a stop. Just another hop
and it might have been his very last.
There stooped Danny Fox, not more than a skip or two. Where he had come from the little frightened
bunny couldn't guess. And I don't blame him, either. He was too

frightened to even think, let alone
speculate, which may mean to guess
money wise.
"Howdy," grinned the old fox "My
but you've grown nice and fat."
"Oh, dear, or, dear," sobbed the
little bunny, looking this way and
looking that, but there was no
friendly hollow stump in sight. No,
there was not place in which to
hide, nothing but just the great out-

Needless Pain!

Nowadays, people take Bayer Aspirin
for many little aches and pains,
and as often as they encounter any
pain.

Why not? It is a proven antidote for pain. It works!
And Bayer Aspirin tablets are utterly harmless. You have the medical profession's word for that;
they do not depress the heart.

So, don't let a cold "run its course." Don't wait for a headache to "wear off." Or regard neuralgia, neuritis, or even rheumatism as something you must endure. Only a physician can cope with the cause of such pain, but you can always turn to Bayer Aspirin

for relief.

Bayer Aspirin is always available, and it always helps. Familiarize yourself with its many uses,
and avoid a lot of needless suffering.

MRS. R. B. WORLEY HAD INDIGESTION SO BAD SHE WAS AFRAID TO EAT

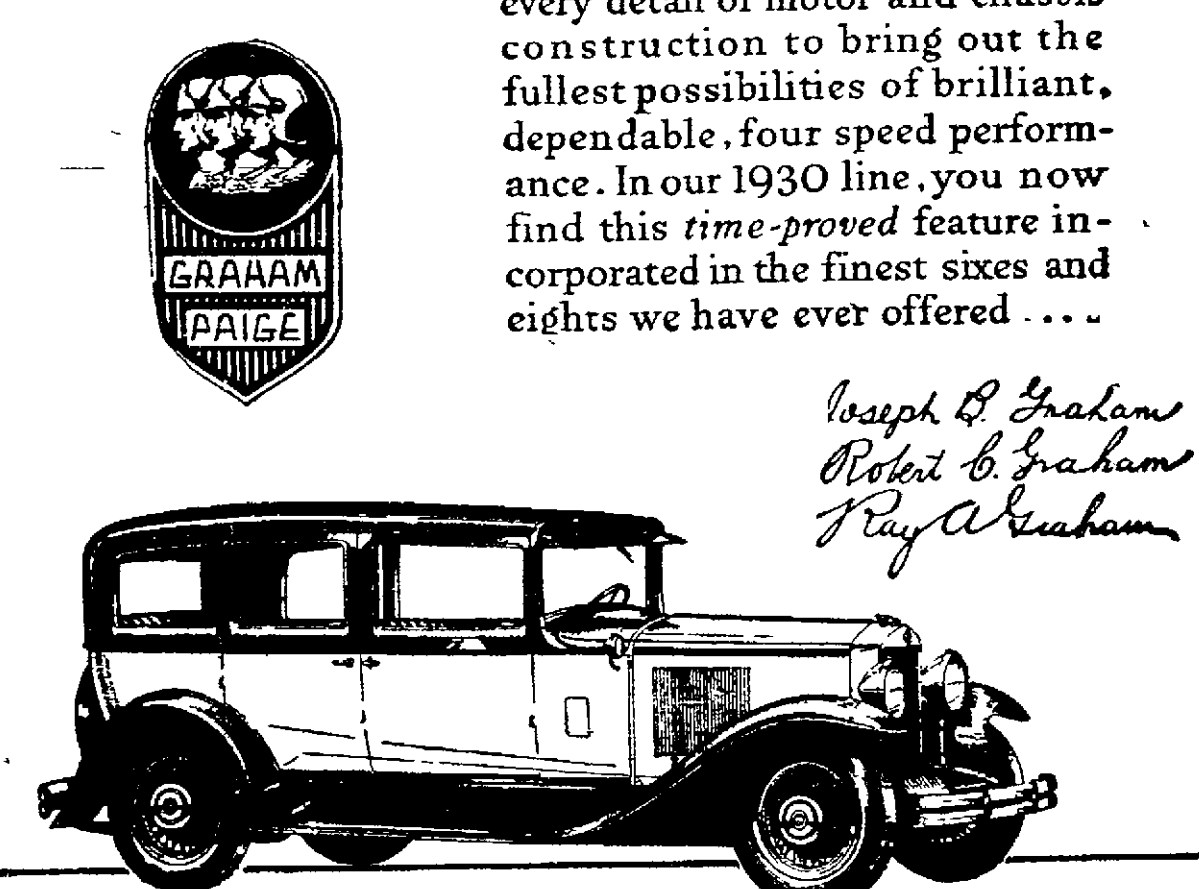

A bad stomach was ruining her health when she took
the new Natex and got relief.

"A bad stomach had just about
ruined my health when I started on Natex and got relief," declares Mrs.
Isabella Worley, 11 South 20th St.,
Harrisburg, Pa., in a recent statement given to the Natex Health
Expert who is now making his headquarters at Murphy's Cut Rate Store.
"For the past two years I have
actually been afraid to eat the foods
I really wanted for as soon as I did
I was sure to suffer with terrible indigestion pains afterwards. I lost
weight continually and grew so weak
that I could scarcely do my house-
work. I became a nervous wreck,
suffered with dizzy spells, constipation and headaches and seemed to be getting worse all the time.
"My husband told me about Na-
tex and how it was helping so many others but I was skeptical and refused to try it until I actually felt
so badly I would have taken anything to get relief.
"To my great surprise Natex
proved every bit as good as my husband said it was and I soon noticed that my stomach was beginning to digest the food that I ate
and that constipation had disappeared. I am now on my fourth week of Natex and I now feel like a different woman. My stomach never distresses me anymore even though I eat heartily at every meal. The constipation, headaches, dizzy spells
and nervousness have been relieved
and I am sleeping like a baby at night. My work does not seem like
such a burden now and I am feeling
stronger and better in every way."
The Natex Health Expert is at Murphy's Cut Rate Store daily explaining the merits of Natex and advising how it should be taken for best results. See him today.

Yes, sir, Little Jack Rabbit was
always on time for his lessons. He
never kept Professor Jim Crow waiting for him. No, indeed, I hope
every boy and girl who reads these stories will be like my bunny—all
ways on time.

voice.

"Who's calling me, I'd like to know?
It sounds just like Professor Crow."

answered the little rabbit in poetry,
just like Willie Shakespeare.
"Well, that's just who it is,"
answered the wise old black bird,
meaning himself, of course, and not
that famous poet I've just mention-
ed. Right there on the path stood
the wise old blackbird, his Wisdom
Book tucked under his wing and a pair of spectacles astride his long
nose.

"Please don't beg of me to stop,"

I must keep on hipperty hop," remarked the little rabbit, with a twinkle, wink of his pretty pink
nose.
"It's only 61 minutes after seven,"
cawed the old crow, with a chuckle,
pulling out his big gold watch.
"Where's your timepiece?"
"Oh, dear!" sighed the little bun-
ny. "It stopped this morning. If Billy Breeze hadn't called me I
would have been late for breakfast."
"Well, you have lots of time before
school commences," chuckled the
wise old crow. "Listen a minute and
give me a look. I must read a line
from my Wisdom Book." Gracious
me, there goes that old crow into
rhyme!
Turning to page 3, Professor Crow
slowly began to read:
"A, B, C, till you come to Z,
Up to 100 from 1, 2, 3,
These you must know very well,
And also learn to write and spell."

"I do study hard," cried the little
rabbit. "Didn't my report card show
that I had good marks?"
"It certainly did," admitted the
wise old blackbird. "But when
school is over for the holidays please
to remember the poem I've just re-
cited."
"I will, I will," promised the little
bunny. "And maybe I'll have time
to hop home and wind my watch.
It's the watch Uncle Lucky gave me

for my birthday," and away hopped
the little rabbit, clipperty clip, lipperty lip, with never a stumble and nary a slip, until, all of a sudden, he
came to a stop. Just another hop
and it might have been his very last.
There stooped Danny Fox, not more
than a skip or two. Where he had come from the little frightened
bunny couldn't guess. And I don't

blame him, either. He was too
frightened to even think, let alone
speculate, which may mean to guess
money wise.
"Howdy," grinned the old fox. "My
but you've grown nice and fat."
"Oh, dear, or, dear," sobbed the
little bunny, looking this way and
looking that, but there was no
friendly hollow stump in sight. No,
there was not place in which to
hide; nothing but just the great out-

Needless
Pain!

Nowadays, people take Bayer Aspirin
for many little aches and pains,
and as often as they encounter any
pain.

Why not? It is a proven antidote for pain. It works!

And Bayer Aspirin tablets are
utterly harmless. You have the
medical profession's word for that;
they do not depress the heart.

So, don't let a cold "run its
course." Don't wait for a headache to "wear off." Or regard neuralgia, neuritis, or even rheumatism as something you must endure. Only a physician can cope
with the cause of such pain, but

MRS. R. E. WORLEY
HAD INDIGESTION SO BAD
SHE WAS AFRAID TO EAT

A bad stomach was ruining her health when she took
the new Natex and got relief.

"A bad stomach had just about
ruined my health when I started on Natex and got relief," declares Mrs.
Isabella Worley, 11 South 20th St.,
Harrisburg, Pa., in a recent statement given to the Natex Health
Expert who is now making his headquarters at Murphy's Cut Rate Store.

"For the past two years I have
actually been afraid to eat the foods
I really wanted for as soon as I did
I was sure to suffer with terrible indigestion pains afterwards. I lost
weight continually and grew so weak
that I could scarcely do my house-
work. I became a nervous wreck,
suffered with dizzy spells, constipation and headaches and seemed
to be getting worse all the time.

"My husband told me about Na-
tex and how it was helping so many others but I was skeptical and refused to try it until I actually felt
so badly I would have taken anything to get relief.

"To my great surprise Natex
proved every bit as good as my husband said it was and I soon realized that my stomach was beginning to digest the food that I had
and that constipation had disappeared. I am now on my fourth
week of Natex and I now feel like a different woman. My stomach no
distresses me anymore even though
I eat heartily at every meal. No
constipation, headaches, dizzy spells
and nervousness have been relieved
and I am sleeping like a log at night. My work does not seem like
such a burden now and I am feeling
stronger and better in every way.

The Natex Health Expert is at Murphy's Cut Rate Store daily explaining the merits of Natex and
advising how it should be taken for
best results. See him today.

the true test of value is the pleasure to be found in smoking.

The most important thing for smokers to know is that genuine cigarette quality must begin with the selection of tobaccos. Nothing can take the place of quality tobacco. Thus the extraordinary goodness of Camels begins with the choicest tobaccos grown and these are blended with expert skill to achieve the mildness and surpassing fragrance of this great cigarette. It is this genuineness of quality which smokers appreciate when

DEER HUNTING

year probably will be a big increase over the kill of 1927, the last year bucks could be legally shot. That year, 14,374 were killed, the commission records show. Last year it was illegal to kill bucks and only does were shot. Many hunters refused to hunt for the female deer. Only bucks with two or more points on an antler may be killed, and a hunter is limited to one deer for the season. A camp is permitted but six deer, no matter how many hunters co-operate.

The elk season also opens next Monday. Elk with four or more points to an antler are legal game. Montana and Virginia are the only other states where elk may be hunted. Elk are found chiefly in Elk, Jefferson, Cameron and Forest counties, and only six were reported as having been shot last year.

going, although he made several nice gains. Lebanon kicked off and tried a side kick that a Lebanon man recovered but only eight yards from the kick off. The same play was tried and failed again. Gettysburg taking the ball on Gettysburg's 48 yard line. An exchange of punts and a 15 yard penalty put the Maroons on their 20 yard line. Lebanon made its only threat when Krouse recovered a fumble on the 22 yard line. The Martindens braced and threw the Lebanon backs for losses, taking the ball on the 30 yard line.

Early in the second quarter the Martindens drove deep into Lebanon territory and finally placed the ball on the 10 yard line, but lost it on downs. A fake punt formation, and Eagan made first down on the 22 yard line. Lebanon soon kicked and again the Bullets threatened. A pair of passes, Kitzmiller to Weikert, put the ball on the 10 yard line. On the next play, Weikert broke through the line but slipped with but a yard to go. A five yard penalty was then inflicted on the Martindens and another chance to score was over.

Pass For Tally
In the third quarter Lebanon was forced to punt soon after receiving the kick off. Weikert got the punt on his 20 yard stripe and twisted his way back for a beautiful 40 yard run to Lebanon's 40 yard line. Again the locals lost the ball when a pass was grounded behind the goal line. Late in this period another march carried the ball to the 15 yard line.

On the second play of the final period, Kitzmiller whipped a 20 yard pass to Rummel behind the goal for the score. Thomas' place kick was low. A bad punt against the wind by Feesser went out on Lebanon's 30 yard line and resulted in the second score. With a straight smashing attack, the Maroons plunged their way over, Smith scoring. Kitzmiller's kick was wide. Gettysburg threatened again before the final whistle blew.

Coach Martin's team outgained its rivals 13 first downs to 3. Penalties sustained by the Maroons reached 90 yards while the Red and Blue team received but 10 yards for infractions on the rules. Of nine passes attempted the Bullets completed five while Lebanon failed in all of five tries. Eagan proved to be Lebanon's best ground gainer.

resorting to the air in the fourth quarter, Acting Captain Paul Tussey—he of the blond hair—snared an F and M pass and behind perfect interference that smeared the entire Postum team, raced fifty-five yards for the Bullets' third marker. Fired with the spirit of administering a sound trouncing to their confident and highly-rated rivals, the Bullets, with several substitutions in the line-up, upset the closing minute rally of their opponents and Hoke, substitute back, leaped into the air, grabbed a beautiful pass destined for a Blue and White clad footballer and dashed 35 yards for the fourth and last score of the game. Gramer added the extra point.

Gala Day For Bullets
In the closing minutes of the pastime Hoke captured another aerial but slipped and tumbled to the sod on what looked like another dash for a touchdown.
It was a gala day for the Bullets. The fans went wild. Sport dopsters sneaked to cover as the rampaging, terror-bent tribe from the Battlefield school ground their cleated boots into the turf and pounded away with all their might in a medley of line-bucks, crisscrosses, spinners, and off-tackle skirts to dim and darken the brightest hopes of F and M fans. Gettysburg's victory places Bream in the front ranks of young mentors. It is his third conference title in his first three years of college coaching.

MAN SUICIDES IN GIRL'S ROOM

Shoots Himself In Breast In Frederick Room; Leaves Note To Mother.

Frederick, Nov. 29 (AP).—John T. Anderson, about 25, of Baltimore, committed suicide by shooting himself in the breast with a shotgun in the room of Miss Helen Miller early Thursday.

He left a note addressed to his mother, telling her not to worry over his act. Relatives who took charge of the body said Anderson had twice before attempted to kill himself.

Woman Is Waitress
Anderson came to Frederick about a week ago and was paying attention to Miss Miller, a lunchroom waitress. Her home is in Westminster. Anderson called at the lunchroom Tuesday and when Miss Miller refused to make an engagement with him he left.

Shortly after 1 o'clock Thursday morning when Miss Miller went to her room she saw a man seated on a chair and she called to him. He made no reply and as she turned on a light the report of a gun was heard. Anderson fell to the floor and died.

Had Balanced Gun
Sheriff William C. Roderick and Magistrate Alton Y. Bennett found that Anderson had purchased a new gun and after balancing it against a radiator and chair fired the shot by pressing the trigger with a window stick.

The note was found near the body and read as follows:
Dear Mom—Please do not worry yourself over this because I am not worth it. Life will only continue being a joke if I live, so the best to do is to end it all. Goodbye, John.

Magistrate Bennett, acting as coroner, returned a verdict of suicide and deemed an inquest unnecessary.

CUBA BUILDS HIGHWAY

Just Folks
By Edgar A. Guest

BEHIND THE SCENES
I went to Hollywood to see what I could see,
And I found a lot of workers just as busy as could be,
The boys who make it possible for stars to gleam and glow,
And there was something friendly in the way they said "Hello!"

I met a violinist and I chatted with him there,
He talked about his garden where he spent his moments spare.
He talked about his little home, his wife and children small.
Thought I: "These picture people aren't so different after all!"

The man who turned the blowers on to keep the studio cool
Discussed a little bright-eyed boy he wished to send to school.
Another came and sat him down and bared his heart to me;
He'd lost his wife a year ago and lonely now is he.

I'd like to pay my tribute to the fel-lowship I met
And the courage and good nature of the men behind the set.
There are enough to cheer the stars.
I give such lines as these
To the fine and friendly people whom the public never sees.

God bless that lonely widower and comfort him, I pray!
God bless that fiddler's little home and keep his garden gay!
May that mechanic's little boy grow up to manhood true!
He shares a common wish with me.
I have a youngster, too.

Soft, wavy hair!

The modern sculptured bobs do wonders to bring out your person-ality. But like other present-day modes of arranging the hair, they call attention to it. That's why it's so important nowadays to keep your hair soft, lustrous, abundant. The easiest and quickest way to give new lustre and color to hair, which has begun to look dull and lifeless, is with Danderine. And it makes the hair softer, easier to arrange; holds it in place.

Here's all you do. Each time you use your brush just put a little Danderine on it. It removes the oily film from your hair; brings out its natural color; gives it more gloss than brilliantine. Waves "set" with it stay in longer.

Danderine dissolves the crust of dandruff; puts the scalp in the pink of condition. It stops falling hair. A small bottle is enough to show its merit. Start on it tonight.

THE price is the same as other regular gasolines but right there the difference begins. For ORANGE AMERICAN GAS has a vast margin of superiority over all other gases in its price class. Its flexibility, its tremendously quick pick-up, its hill-climbing ability--any one of those qualities would make it outstanding in its price class. But when you add to all these the fact that of all gasolines selling at regular gasoline prices, ORANGE AMERICAN GAS has the highest anti-knock rating--what more need be said? Of the 320 bridges and culverts on the road, 280 have been finished.

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest

BEHIND THE SCENES
I went to Hollywood to see what I could see,
And I found a lot of workers just as busy as could be.
The boys who make it possible for stars to gleam and glow,
And there was something friendly in the way they said "Hello!"

I met a violinist and I chatted with him there.
He talked about his garden where he spent his moments spare.
He talked about his little home, his wife and children small.
Thought I: "These picture people aren't so different after all!"

The man who turned the blowers on to keep the studio cool Discussed a little bright-eyed boy he wished to send to school.
Another came and sat him down and bared his heart to me;
He'd lost his wife a year ago and lonely now is he.

I'd like to pay my tribute to the fellowship I met
And the courage and good nature of the men behind the set.
There are enough to cheer the stars.
I give such lines as these
To the fine and friendly people whom the public never sees.

God bless that lonely widower and comfort him, I pray!
God bless that fiddler's little home
and keep his garden gay!
May that mechanic's little boy grow up to manhood true!
He shares a common wish with me.
I have a youngster, too.

Soft, wavy hair!

The modern sculptured bobs do wonders to bring out your personality. But like other present-day modes of arranging the hair, they call attention to it. That's why it's so important nowadays to keep your hair soft, lustrous, abundant. The easiest and quickest way to give new lustre and color to hair, which has begin to look dull and lifeless, is with Danderine. And it makes the hair softer, easier to arrange; holds it in place.

Here's all you do. Each time you use your brush just put a little Danderine on it. It removes the only film from your hair; brings out its natural color; gives it more gloss than brilliantine. Waves "set" with it stay in longer.

Danderine dissolves the crust of dandruff; puts the scalp in the pink of condition. It stops falling hair.
A small bottle is enough to show its merit. Start on it tonight.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEWS ADAMS

THE MISSED ONE-HALF

YOUTH is so strong and so self-confident. It doesn't like to listen, and if it does, it is apt to merely smile and pass on when the great truths of life are unfolded; and when age and experience, embodied in wise heads, appear to offer advice too freely.

But there always comes a time when every human being hides and, in retrospect, reviews the panorama of life. Things that everyone said mattered in early youth now appear as not so very important, and those things which were lightly passed over now appear as the only things that matter and which add urge to aspiration and the desire to be somebody in the world.

So many of us arrive at middle life with half of the beauty and gloriousness of life gone from our reach. It is not always the most comforting thing to measure the compensations of life and learn that the gold of our hopes and dreams has melted away, far beyond our deserts, perhaps.

When life is very young and full of sparkle, the dreams and plans toward wealth, glory, the world's applause, and a compliance to the "fitness of things" loom very great. How few there are at this early age who determine at the very start to search alone for happiness, and for a realization of the results of this search!

Is there anything more worth striving for than personal happiness and the rendering of happiness to others?

So often I notice that the merest little act of kindness, or of thoughtfulness, seems to be accomplished as though there was something out-of-the-way about it. People go far out of their course to do something that is sure to attract attention, or add glory to their reputation, but somehow there is so little permanence to such acts. After you get glory or wealth, or are considered "a great success," you remain lonely and often deeply disappointed.

The simplest living people appear to be the happiest. And I am sure that they are. They miss less from life because they have given most of what they are.

The ones I love most, among my friends, are those who are always the freest of all boast, who in simplicity and kindness, see most of good in people and the world, and who never lose a thrill wherever beauty is presented, or wherever nobleness of action is presented.

The humblest of this earth are often those who carry about in their hearts the missed one-half of the acclaimed:

IT'S an organization in which there is only one by-law: SAVE SYSTEMATICALLY—a small, fixed sum every week. The purpose of the "Club" is to build up a tidy little nest egg for that rainy autumn day when you begin your Christmas shopping. Santa Claus is the patron spirit of the "Club," and "A Financially Merry Christmas" is the watchword. Save as much or as little as you want—but save REGULARLY.
